SEED

SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM AT UNIVERSITY OF DETROIT MERCY

The Science and Engineering Equity Development (SEED) Scholars program supports the success of academically-talented students with demonstrated financial need in the fields of computer science, engineering and mathematics. Qualifying students will receive full undergraduate tuition for four years, in addition to three paid co-operative summer internships and mentoring from an impressive lineup of corporate partners, including Ford Motor Company, Walbridge, and RIIS.

Benefits

Full tuition support for four years

Three paid co-operative summer internships

Academic, professional and peer mentoring

Academic and social supports

Community of peer scholars

Requirements

U.S. citizen or permanent resident

Admitted to Computer Science, Engineering or Mathematics at Detroit Mercy

Demonstrated financial need via FAFSA (Pell eligible)

Minimum 3.3 GPA, 1060 SAT (Math 560) or 23 ACT

How to Apply

Complete a Detroit Mercy application at udmercy.edu for consideration*

Interviews in late January/ early February

Email seed@udmercy.edu for more information or to express interest

*Women and students from historically underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply